Description

THE BIKE SPECIALISTS, TRADING STANDARDS AWARD WINNERS. Bike ID:#10690 We are delighted to offer this seriously impressive Yamaha YZF1000R Thunderace, a machine that has been purpose-built for Classic Bike track days with no expense spared. This is far removed from a standard Thunderace. Every aspect of the bike has been carefully considered, upgraded and developed to create a fast, capable and highly focused track machine, combining Yamaha's strong YZF1000R platform with a comprehensive list of high-quality performance upgrades. At the heart of the build is a fully rebuilt engine, built by Neil Bainbridge at SNT Engineering, producing an impressive 160 bhp at the rear wheel, with dyno printout available as proof. The rebuild was completed last year and the engine has covered just five track days since, with all internal bearings, chains and associated components replaced. The engine specification includes high-compression 1040 pistons, YZF750 cams and reprofiled valves, while the standard airbox has been retained and the stock carburettors have recently been serviced and fitted with a high-flow air filter. There is also further potential for additional power should the next owner wish to develop the engine even further. Power is delivered through a six-speed YZF750R gearbox, coupled to an R6 slipper clutch with stronger springs and a genuine Yamaha clutch pack. The current owner reports that this combination has been chosen specifically to cope with the considerable power output. The chassis has received an equally comprehensive treatment, including, Dymag wheels, R1 4XV front forks, professionally re-valved by K-Tech with matching springs, Öhlins rear shock, YZF750 swingarm, World Superbike-style bodywork from Bagged Edge Racing, Scitsu digital tacho, Brembo radial front master cylinder,
