made by KTM in recent years, but it is also a revelation regarding motorcycle usability. By allowing riders to choose between a traditional shifting manual mode or a completely automated transmission, the AMT provides total control at low or cruising speeds while retaining the sporty element of spirited riding when the need arises. This is READY TO RACE, auto-engaged. SEMI-ACTIVE SUSPENSION TECHNOLOGY There’s no modest way to say this, but – the KTM 1390 SUPER ADVENTURE S EVO is fitted with the most advanced suspension system on the market. Featuring the latest version of WP’s Semi-Active Suspension Technology (SAT) with through-rod technology to reduce friction and improve sensitivity, this ride is unlike anything else. It works like this: Electronically controlled magnetic valves provide variable damping based on the road surface and rider inputs. It also offers riders a wide range of adjustability for maximum comfort and safety. But wait, there’s more. Not only can riders manage their suspension settings via the TFT screen with four different damping modes COMFORT, STREET, SPORT and RAIN, and with the optional Suspension PRO package riders have even more setup options.
