Description

A superb example of Hondas popular middleweight naked motorcycle, the 2014 Honda CB650F combines sporty streetfighter styling, renowned Honda reliability and an engaging four-cylinder engine to deliver an excellent all-round riding experience. Powered by a 649cc, liquid-cooled, DOHC, 16-valve inline four-cylinder engine, the CB650F produces an impressive 85bhp and 63Nm of torque. Its smooth power delivery, responsive throttle and strong mid-range performance make it equally enjoyable around town, on country roads or covering longer distances. The six-speed gearbox and Hondas PGM-FI electronic fuel injection ensure smooth, precise performance and excellent everyday usability. The CB650F features an aggressive naked-bike design, with sharp angular bodywork, a distinctive front headlight, muscular fuel tank and compact upswept rear end. Its upright riding position, wide tubular handlebars and relatively low 810mm seat height provide excellent comfort, control and confidence for riders of all experience levels. Standard equipment includes a six-speed manual gearbox, electronic fuel injection, 41mm telescopic front forks and a rear monoshock with adjustable spring preload. Braking is provided by twin 320mm front hydraulic discs with dual-piston callipers and a 240mm rear disc. The bike also benefits from lightweight cast aluminium alloy wheels, radial tyres, digital instrumentation, a digital fuel gauge, dual trip meters, clock and Hondas HISS (Honda Ignition Security System) immobiliser. LED rear lighting completes the modern specification. With its combination of four-cylinder performance, comfortable ergonomics and sharp styling, the Honda CB650F remains an excellent choice for anyone seeking a versatile, dependable and exciting naked motorcycle.
