Description

Introducing the 2024 Honda CL500, a stylish and versatile middleweight scrambler that perfectly combines classic retro-inspired design with modern engineering and everyday practicality. Whether navigating busy town streets, enjoying a weekend countryside ride or exploring the occasional gravel track, the CL500 delivers an engaging and confidence-inspiring riding experience. Powered by Hondas proven 471cc liquid-cooled, parallel-twin engine, the CL500 produces an impressive 46.9bhp (34.3kW) and 43.4Nm of torque, offering smooth, responsive performance throughout the rev range. Its A2 licence compatibility makes it an excellent choice for newer riders, while its enjoyable power delivery provides plenty to keep more experienced motorcyclists entertained. The six-speed gearbox is complemented by an assist and slipper clutch, providing lighter lever operation and smoother gear changes, particularly during downshifts. Standard equipment includes full LED lighting with its distinctive round headlight, a compact negative LCD instrument display featuring gear position and trip information, and two-channel ABS for added braking confidence. The braking system features a 310mm front floating disc with a twin-piston calliper, while the suspension comprises 41mm telescopic front forks with 150mm travel and twin rear shock absorbers with five-stage preload adjustment. The 19-inch front and 17-inch rear wheels provide a versatile combination of stability and agility, while Hondas Emergency Stop Signal technology offers additional reassurance during sudden braking. Completing the package is its unmistakable scrambler styling, featuring a sculpted 12-litre fuel tank, rubber knee pads, high-level exhaust with stainless-steel heat shield, wide handlebars and classic fork gaiters. A comfortable 790mm seat height
