Description

CB750 Hornet - Now available with E-Clutch Break free from the hive with the upgraded CB750 Hornet. It delivers class-leading power through a lightweight chassis, built for sharp, sporty performance. Honda E-Clutch with Throttle by Wire adds a next-level advantage – faster, smoother, more intuitive shifting. With head-turning streetfighter style and a dual LED headlight, the CB750 Hornet is ready to take flight. Nothing else comes close. Ultimate control and connectivity Throttle By Wire (TBW) offers three default riding modes – Sport, Standard and Rain – plus a User mode to fine-tune Honda Selectable Torque Control (HSTC), Wheelie Control, Engine Power and Engine Braking. Honda's E-Clutch works seamlessly with these modes for smooth, effortless shifting. Everything is managed through the 5-inch full-colour TFT meter with intuitive interface and Honda RoadSync connectivity. LED lighting doubles brightness for better visibility, while automatic indicator cancellation keeps the focus on the ride. Pure streetfighter style Shaped from scratch by ambitious young designers in our Rome R&D facility, with technical input from Japanese development engineers, the CB750 Hornet's sharp minimalism brings a hardcore attitude to the street. The fuel tank, inspired by the outline of a Hornet's wing, commands attention, while the anodised front forks – available with two paint options – adds vibrant aggression. LED lighting provides the premium finishing touch, with a signature headlight leading the way. Fast, agile fun Designed around a steel diamond frame, the CB750 Hornet has a seat height of 795mm, so it's a joy to manage. With a naturally upright riding position and 196kg kerb weight, it steers fast with precise control and feedback from 41mm Showa SFF-BP™ USD forks.
