Description

CMC Motorcycles is pleased to offer the 2022 Triumph Tiger 1200 GT Pro — a premium road-focused adventure motorcycle that combines long-distance comfort, cutting-edge technology and strong triple-cylinder performance. Designed for riders who prioritise touring capability and refined road handling, the GT Pro represents the more road-biased side of the Tiger 1200 range. At the heart of the Tiger 1200 GT Pro is a 1,160cc liquid-cooled inline three-cylinder engine, delivering around 150PS and 130Nm of torque. This new-generation triple provides strong, flexible performance with a broad torque curve, offering smooth low-speed control and effortless acceleration for motorway cruising and overtaking. Suspension is a key highlight, with semi-active Showa components offering 200mm of travel and automatic adjustment based on riding conditions. This system helps maintain comfort and control whether riding solo, two-up or fully loaded, while also improving confidence at low speeds. Ergonomically, the GT Pro is designed for long-distance touring comfort, with an upright riding position, adjustable seat height and wide handlebars for relaxed control. Wind protection is strong, and the overall riding position is engineered to reduce fatigue on extended journeys. Styling is modern and purposeful, with a bold adventure stance, premium finishes and integrated LED lighting including cornering lights for improved visibility. The design reflects its focus on road touring performance with a high-end, technical feel. Rider technology is extensive, including multiple riding modes, cornering ABS, traction control, cruise control, hill hold assist, keyless ignition and a full-colour TFT display with connectivity features. These systems work together to enhance safety, convenience and adaptability across a wide range of road conditions. At
