Description

FOR SALE: Kawasaki ZL 400 Eliminator – The Best of Both Worlds Picture this: the unmistakable swagger of a cruiser, but with the precision engineering of Japanese craftsmanship. That's the Kawasaki ZL 400 Eliminator in a nutshell. It's not pretending to be a Harley—it doesn't need to. This 1998 gem does its own thing, with cool confidence and reliability that's second to none. DETAILS: - Year: 1998, a vintage beauty that still turns heads. - Mileage: Just 32,000 miles—barely broken in for a bike built to last. - 12m MOT - Style: Classic cruiser vibes meet a modern edge, perfect for riders who appreciate timeless aesthetics without the drama of high-maintenance machines. WHY CHOOSE THIS ELIMINATOR? The ZL 400 Eliminator combines Japanese reliability with a nod to US West Coast cruiser culture, making it a bike that's as easy to own as it is to ride. Forget oil leaks and temperamental starts—this is a bike that gets on with the job, no fuss required. WHAT MAKES IT SPECIAL? - Its 400cc engine offers plenty of power for town cruising or open-road adventures without being intimidating for newer riders. - It's compact yet commanding, with a design that's neat, cool, and unmistakably stylish. - A rock-bottom price makes this bike a no-brainer for anyone looking to join the cruiser crowd without breaking the bank. PERFECT FOR: - Riders who want all the charm of a cruiser without the endless tinkering. - Anyone who appreciates classic looks paired with modern-day dependability. - Those who know a good deal when they see one—and who aren't afraid to snap it up
